Report of Library Trustees

To the Town of Rye:

During the past year the Library has been lighted by electricity, so that it has been open two evenings a week instead of three afternoons as before.

A metal tablet has been placed over the door in the hall, bearing the following inscription:

This Building was presented to the town of Rye, A. D. 1910
by Mary Tuck Rand,
in memory
of Capt. John Tuck Rand,
Betsy Dow, his wife,
and their children,
To whose industry and frugality,
the donor owes her ability to give

The year past has been a successful one with the Library. The Librarian reports that over six thousand books have been out, and more would have been taken, had they been in the library.

The town should vote to raise some money every year for the purchase of new books as the old ones wear out, and new ones coming in help to keep up more interest.

Having some money left from the year's appropriation, not needed for other expenses, we have been able to expend one hundred and eighty-five dollars ($185) for books.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES M. REMICK,
CHAUNCEY M. WOODMAN,

Library Trustees.

Librarian's Report

At the beginning of the year the Library was open to the public three afternoons a week, but in April electric lights were installed and the Trustees thought it better to open two evenings in place of one of the afternoons. Finally Wednesday and Saturday afternoons and evenings were decided on, the building to be open from 2 to 6 and 7.30 to 9.30.

With the exception of $185 worth of books purchased by the Trustees, the Library has been dependent on gifts for books. At the close of the last report there were 1,251 volumes on the shelves, since then 495 have been added, making a total of 1,746 volumes; 378 borrowers' cards have been issued, and 6688 books have been in circulation. Sixteen magazines have been placed on the tables. Six have been purchased with money taken in for fines from books overdue; the rest have been gifts.

The following report has been received from Mr. Langdon B. Parsons, Trustee of the Miss Abby S. Parsons' fund.

The Library has received a picture, "The Castle of San Angelo," from Miss Mary Augusta Rand, of Pembroke, N. H., and a year's subscription to the Woman's Home Journal, from the Seaside Literary club; the Saturday Evening Post from Dr. Percy G. Drake; the Literary Digest and Survey, from Miss Edith de Heath, of Brookline, Mass.; the Delineator, from Mrs. Kate D. Patterson; the Cosmopolitan and Exeter News-Letter, from the Miss Abby S. Parsons fund; the Pictorial Review, from Mrs. Edwin H. Drake, and the Boys' Magazine, from Mr. Thomas Parsons. Magazines have been sent in each month by Mrs. T. Herbert Perkins and Mrs. Wallace Garrett.

Since the opening of the Library, September 6, 1911, I have taken in $18.70 for fines from books over due. This money is supposed to be used for desk supplies, but only needing $5.50 for that purpose, I have subscribed for six magazines, amounting to $11.70. This leaves $1.50 on hand.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

Since making our last report we feel that great progress has been made in the schools, and that we are at last in a position to meet and cope with the demands of the present day, and to insure a permanent efficiency in our schools. This has been accomplished by an addition to the Wedgewood school building, which provides accommodations for grammar school purposes, and relieves the congested conditions at the other schools, especially the East, and by the persistent and commendable efforts of our Superintendent.

As in years past we have been obliged to make several changes in the corps of teachers, but at the present time we feel we have a good corps, who are doing excellent work.

The School Board and community at large are indebted to Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Drake, of Rye Beach, for their generous gift of $500.00 towards the new grammar school.

We have been able to retain Miss Hoyt as Music Teacher, whose efforts are untiring, and we feel that excellent results are being obtained.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the School Board of Rye :

On Oct. 16, the schools opened under the new arrangement of consolidated grammar school at the Center in the new room provided for last Spring. In this room there are this Winter term, 43 pupils as follows: Grade VI, 10; grade VII, 12; grade VIII, 21. In the other schools the numbers are as follows (Feb. 1913):

GRADE	I	II	III	IV	V	VI	VII	Total
Center Primary	2	6	..	5	4	..	..	17
East.....	6	8	5	6	..	..	..	25
West	1	2	2	..	7	..	3	15
South.....	6	..	9	3	5	4	..	27

On account of plenty of room at the South and West, grades VI and VII respectively were retained this year, and grade VI from the East was sent to Center with grade VI at the Center and both placed in grammar room, to relieve the congestion for the present at the East and help to equalize the numbers and grades at the several schools. Next year I shall recommend only grades VII and VIII for the Center grammar school.

On the whole, the new arrangement has been satisfactory. Credit is due Miss Hett at the grammar school for so successfully inaugurating the work in this room and dealing with pupils so brought together from the several schools where exactly the same work could not be expected, though the teachers had worked with the several classes, having in mind final consolidation at the Center. Credit is also due the other teachers who kept things going under adverse conditions at the beginning of the year, during the delayed completion of the new building, and, after the change, in organizing the schools under the new arrangement. I feel that citizens of Rye must appreciate the increased facilities offered for educational purposes and I know that quantity and quality of work is now more favorable, though there is much to be done to make up for lost time under the former crowded conditions.

Work in classes has followed the outline course, together with special bulletins on several subjects, all with the object in view of building up the standard of results in the common school branches of study recognized as essential in ordinary intelligent activities of life. Some changes and additions in matters relating to school management have been made and all such are on file for inspection at any time. Semi-term reports to parents were substituted for quarterly reports, and plan books take place of monthly reports in class work. Nothing of the kind was in evidence when I came to the district, though I understand there had been something once, and what I have designed for use contains data of value and in such form that can be turned over to my successor or made use of should Rye be in any other supervisory arrangement.

The work in reading is greatly handicapped for want of material. There is a good variety in town, but practically all sets are several numbers short of enough to supply classes. I shall recommend purchases this term that will greatly help this deficiency. Except for completing the sets of new geographies, no changes have been made, but several additions provided. Many books are worn out and need to be replaced, in most cases with new editions of the same book.

In this connection, I would say that every town has certain peculiar characteristics in regard to different school matters. In this town I find pupils are exceptionally rough and careless in their use of all school property. New books receive exceptionally hard usage and more windows and furniture are broken in the school buildings in this town than all the other towns of the district put together. Just as much effort is made here as elsewhere to keep things in good condition, but there is something lacking somewhere. I plan to resort to some more strenuous plan very soon, especially when some contemplated improvements are made, and hope I can eliminate some of this difficulty. Property destroyed by careless use by pupils should be settled for as provided in the statutes and I shall plan to enforce this. Those in charge as janitors should be empowered to incur necessary expense, to a certain extent designated by the Board, and make minor repairs such as setting glass, repairing door latches etc. Such incidentals are small jobs if taken in time, but, when neglected, cause more or less annoyance, are usually cause of more expense and show a neglected condition of the buildings. Some definite understanding should be with janitors as is the case with teachers, Superintendent or Board. Some improvement can be made in the care of the rooms. No dry sweeping should be tolerated. It is a waste of time and money, as much of the dust and dirt is merely shifted from the floor to desks, books, etc. A dust preparation was disinterestedly and unsuccessfully tried at the Center and later used at the West, where, with a fair trial, it is very successful and highly recommended. I shall recommend several plans in this connection.

In equipping the new room, odd seats, like those already at the Center, were taken from the East and 14 new seats and desks bought. This rearrangement made seats at Center and East uniform in each school room, and at much less expense than to have bought all new sets for the new room. At least one new row of large seats and desks should be placed in the grammar room and others replaced to give more comfortable spacing. Something in the way of ventilating arrangements is urgently needed, for the Center rooms especially. I think something may be obtained with use of small part of the repair money allowed by law. Screens have rusted away at the East. The frames are good and should be re-covered. All the schools should be fitted with screens, as I believe such are as essential for the comfort of pupils and teachers (and citizens when they make their rare calls) in school as in the homes, and the flies and mosquitoes are almost unbearable, at certain seasons of the year. Drinking cups made from paper for individual service have worked well and paper towels should be supplied.

Work in music has progressed about as usual under the direction of Miss Hoyt. At present the grammar school is at work upon an operetta to be given in public.

I call your attention to the statistic tables given herewith, for year ending June, 1912. The attendance was slightly above the state average, and tardiness much reduced, though both not what we must have if possible. The per cent. of promotions was nearer the state average than the year before. Of seven pupils in grade VIII last June, three were granted high school certificates, three are repeating at the grammar school. In 1910 three pupils from class of 14 entered high school; in 1911, four from class of 10; in 1912, two from class of 7. At present there are 21 in the class at the grammar school and indications are that next year an unusually large number will apply for admission to high school. With this in view, the tuition requirements will be somewhat larger.

In this connection, when we read reports of the Russell Sage Foundation, showing the number of illiterate people in New Hampshire over 10 years of age has decreased from 8 to 100 in 1900 to 5 in 1910 (compare with 29 in 100 in Louisiana), that New Hampshire passed from 28th to 22d in rank in this respect among the 48 states, that New Hampshire is first in the proportion of school children attending high school, we can see evidences tending towards desirable standards, but considering we rank 35th in regard to salaries gives something to think about. However, we may note the following comparisons: average monthly wages; Rye, $44; N. H., $41.93; U. S., $53.40, average annual expenditure per pupil of average attendance; Rye, $37; N. H., $30; U. S., $33, (ranging from $7 to $56). In U. S., average salaries range from $33 to $80 per month.

The transportation business should receive some settlement one way or another. I find by actual measurement that many of the increased individual distances necessitated by the change are no greater than many under the old plan and several are at present attending the usual school. There are a few exceptional cases and so far the amount expended is less than $50, eight pupils receiving such assistance where the distance is clearly unreasonable.

Just a word in looking ahead. There are subjects in school lines that have passed the experimental stage and are now well established in places recognized as supplying superior advantages for the education of the children. More practical problems of every day life are being worked into the school studies. The schools are fairly well equipped to forward the usual common school branches, but nothing is done to complete that all-round development included in knowing how to do something in some line of present day activities of life, something that could serve as a basis for the trades or a livelihood other than that made particularly possible by means of the common school branches. I refer to the well recognized demand for manual training and domestic arts. These include wood working, drawing, designing, cooking, serving and sewing. This is about the next move for Rye, I think, and, backed by authority from a man who knows building conditions, I would say that a very desirable room for such work can be finished off in the basement of the Center school, and at a very nominal expense. The equipment can be obtained in small lots each year, and a branch of work entered upon that I am sure would be a source of satisfaction to the town. This probably cannot come about until the debt of the new room is partially eliminated, but I would recommend for your consideration the advisability of setting aside each year a small amount, $100 or $200 for a sinking fund to be used for this purpose when the Board finds a sufficient amount is on hand to start the work.

With appreciation for co-operation rendered, this report is respectfully submitted.

EUGENE TUTTLE.
